BADLY HURT IN FOOT BALL GAME

Roy Plank Sustains Severe Injuries when Fiercely Tackled by Opponent in Foot Ball Game at Emmitsburg Thursday.

Roy Plank son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Plank, of North Washington street, was seriously hurt in the foot ball game between Gettysburg Athletic Club and Mt. St. Mary's at Emmitsburg on Thursday afternoon, when he sustained severe injuries to his head and to his abdomen. It was feared for several hours that his injuries would prove fatal.

Plank was playing quarterback on the Gettysburg team and started to make an end run. He was tackled fiercely by an opposing player who caught him below the knees, throwing Plank heavily on his back. The tackler came along falling knees first, on young Plank's abdomen. The Gettysburg boy was rendered unconscious and remained in that condition for some minutes. When he regained consciousness it was only to lapse into a comatose state from which he was not roused for several hours.

The young man was carried into the school as soon as it was seen how badly he was hurt and given the attention of several physicians. Relatives were summoned from Gettysburg when it was feared that he would not survive and all during the evening the gravest fears for his condition were entertained.

He spent a comfortable night however and his complete recovery is now hoped for. The game was resumed after Plank was carried from the field. He was brought to his home today.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Second month of school opened Monday the 27th.

The High School was made the present of a large number of magazines by Rev. Dr. Clutz.

A review in spelling was given to all classes in the High School on Monday.

The proceeds of the food sale held by the Sophomore and Freshman classes amounted to $19.62. The money will be used for the benefit of the Art Fund.

The Senior and Junior classes defeated the Freshman and Sophomore classes at base ball by the score of 13 to 3. This game was played on Wednesday evening. In a former game the other team was victorious by a score of 7 to 6. Batteries: Beard and McClellan; Skelly and Myers. Struck out by Beard 8, by Skelly 3.

The report books containing the month's averages of each pupil were given out Thursday afternoon to the pupils to take home to their parents who will sign and return them.

ROBBERS AT HOLLY

Now robbers have threatened the scene of operations to peaceful Mt. Holly Springs. Wednesday night Percy Harman's warehouse was entered, a panel of door being removed. Mr. Harman's belief is that they were after money, and if this be the case the marauders were disappointed, for there was none there. Nothing is missing.

An attempt was made to break into the tool house of the Philadelphia and Reading railway Wednesday night, but the thieves were frightened away by Watchman Isaac Harlan. A woman who lives nearby, says she saw two strangers in the vicinity at eleven o'clock Wednesday night.

SQUIRE AGAIN ATTACKED

Squire Hamers has again suffered from the attacks of wild bees. On Thursday while he was digging post holes a swarm of bees found him and at once commenced operations. The Squire was forced to beat a hasty retreat. The bees are the same ones which he has been feeding on sugar water all summer and which followed him around like tame animals. The cause for their sudden treachery is a mystery.

On Friday and Saturday, Oct. 1st and 2nd, Miss Lindora Ramer will have at her home on Baltimore street a large assortment of untrimmed hats and trimmings.

GIRL WANTED for general housework. Apply S. Gray Bigham, Biglerville.

NEIGHBORLY ACT

The neighbors of John J. Black, of route 12, visited his corn field on Wednesday night and cut off his twelve acres of corn in three hours. There were thirty one in the party and they did the work by the bright moonlight all unknown to Mr. Black who, it will be remembered, was hurt several weeks ago by being caught beneath a grain drill and has been unable to be about ever since. It was a most charitable act and one which Mr. Black appreciated greatly.

APPRECIATED GIFT

H. V. Kepner, of route 4 Gettysburg, sent to The Times office a jar of fine steam boiled apple butter which has been much enjoyed. Mr. Kepner makes the apple butter with great care and its delicious flavor shows that it is far above the average. The gift was much appreciated.

BAKERY WAGON HIT BY TRAIN

Edgar C. Tawney and Son Have Narrow Escape from Serious Injury when Former's Bakery Wagon is Struck by W. M. Train.

What threatened to be a very serious accident occurred Thursday afternoon at the Stratton street crossing of the Western Maryland railroad when the bread wagon of Edgar C. Tawney was struck by passenger train number 44, leaving here at 3:42 for Baltimore.

Mr. Tawney, accompanied by his little son, David, were crossing the tracks when they saw the train approaching at a good rate of speed. Mr. Tawney says that he would have had ample time to cross but his horse slipped and he could not hurry the animal along. Engineer Eichelberger saw the danger and put on the emergency brakes but not in time to stop the train before striking the wagon.

The engine hit the rear part of the vehicle, smashing the one wheel badly, breaking the shafts by the sudden impact and in other ways damaging it so that it will require considerable outlay to put it back into condition. Neither Mr. Tawney nor his son was hurt, a fact that is most remarkable. Bread and rolls were scattered in all directions over the tracks and street.

It required several minutes to clear away the wreckage and get things straightened up and then the train proceeded on its way.

Mr. Tawney in discussing the accident said: "I was in no way responsible for it. I am a careful driver and would have had ample time to cross if the horse had not slipped, but when he did I could not hurry him. The train started at a fast speed from the station and the bell was not rung as it neared the crossing. When about ten feet from me the whistle was blown."

ST. MARY'S 11 GETTYSBURG 0

Gettysburg Athletic Club Journeys to Maryland Town and Faces over Forty Players' Meeting Defeat by Small Score.

The Gettysburg Athletic Club met defeat at the hands of the Mt. St. Mary's Reserves at Emmitsburg on Thursday afternoon in a well played game of foot ball by the score of 11 to 0.

It was the first game of the season for a Mt. St. Mary's team and the coaches of the Emmitsburg College evidently wanted to try out all of their material for the Gettysburg players had been confronted by over forty opponents before the game was concluded. As soon as one Mt. St. Mary's man grew at all tired he was relieved and Gettysburg played practically four different halves before time was called at the end of the second half.

The game opened with Mt. St. Mary's kicking off to Gettysburg. By an average gain of six yards to the rush the ball was carried down the field to the two yard line where it was lost on a fumble. Mt. St. Mary's kicked out of danger, held for downs, and Campbell by a long end run with good interference ran from midfield for the first touchdown. The half ended without further scoring.

Mt. St. Mary's made their second touchdown by a long end run followed by hard line bucks early in the second half. After that Gettysburg pulled together and the Marylanders were unable to cross the goal line again.

Gettysburg played a beautiful game throughout. Good tackling, nice running with the ball, excellent interference and almost an entire absence of fumbling showed the rapid strides which the local eleven has been making since the Littlestown game. Every man on the team put up a good game and all enthusiasts are much pleased with the result.

PEARY'S SHIP AT NEW YORK

Explorer Will Take Part In Hudson Naval Parade.

WON'T TALK ABOUT COOK

From the Bridge of the Arctic Steamer Roosevelt Peary Will Receive New York's Welcome From His Successful Quest of the North Pole.

New York, Oct. 1.—With the flag of the Peary Arctic club at her masthead and the American ensign at her mizzen, the steamer Roosevelt, which bore her commander on his quest for the North Pole, arrived here. Commander Peary arrived this morning from his home in Maine and will take part in the Hudson-Fulton naval pageant on the Hudson river.

From the bridge of the Arctic ship Roosevelt he will receive New York's welcome from his successful quest as the Roosevelt moves up the Hudson, in company with her warrior sisters and other marine craft.

The explorer appeared delighted that he could take part in the parade, and told his friends that he hoped he would not be asked to talk about the Cook controversy while in New York. Until the Peary Arctic club makes public the statement giving Peary's side in the Cook controversy the commander will not talk about the matter.

Captain Bartlett Spokesman.

Still clad in the rough clothes worn on the Arctic trip, although his furs had been laid aside, Captain Bartlett stood on his quarter deck and acted as spokesman for the party. Acting under instructions from Commander Peary, the crew and the scientists and others aboard will remain on the Roosevelt and not enjoy life ashore until they are released by the chief of the expedition. Captain Bartlett said that the Roosevelt will accompany the naval procession as far as Newburg. All of those now aboard will be there during the parade.

In outward appearance the Roosevelt looks little like a ship that has braved the ice and storms of the Arctic zone. She has received a fresh coat of paint, and the bones of Arctic animals that were interwoven in her rattles have been removed. In her hold, however, she carried a quantity of skins and all the specimens gathered during her cruise. There are no Eskimos aboard, but life in the Arctic zone is represented by a litter of twelve Eskimo puppies.

SOLDIER KILLS HIMSELF

Sergeant Caron, Assisting Wright and Curtiss, Ends Life With Rifle.

New York, Oct. 1.—Worried by the responsibility of assisting the aeronauts, Wilbur Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss, in preparations for their aeroplane flights at Governor's Island, Quartermaster Sergeant James Caron, of Company I, Twenty-ninth Infantry, committed suicide in his bunk outside the redoubt at Fort Jay, shooting himself through the head with a rifle.

Caron had been delegated to assist Wright and Curtiss in the preparations for their flight, and this seemed to greatly excite him. When Wright was preparing to fly he frequently turned to a soldier near him and remarked: "Why don't that fellow go up? I can't stand it any longer."

After Wright had made his last flight and the crowd of visitors had left the island, Caron went to his bunk and as he was turning in said to his roommate: "Harris, old boy, goodbye."

Then Caron grabbed his rifle, and before Harris could prevent him had placed it to his head and fired. He died almost instantly.

Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce Basco Refusal on Mikado's Selfishness.

Pittsburg, Oct. 1.—The Chamber of Commerce here refused to take any part in the entertaining of the Japanese commercial commission, which is touring the United States and is expected in Pittsburg shortly.

President Lee S. Smith, of the chamber, said that the matter had been discussed from every side and that it was the consensus of opinion among the members that Japan is a selfish country, willing to accept everything in the way of assistance for her advancement, but willing to offer nothing in return.

For this reason the chamber begs to be excused from entertaining the noted Japanese visitors.

BRYAN WILL NOT DEBATE THE TARIFF

Says Argument Between Two Democrats is Inadvisable.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 1.—In explanation of his position on the proposed debate with Senator Bailey, of Texas, at Atlanta, Ga., William J. Bryan addressed a letter to Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution. The letter follows:

"I wired you that I would communicate with you by letter my reasons for believing a debate inadvisable. When a joint meeting was suggested at El Paso, Tex., I replied to the effect that I am trying to aid in the election of a Democratic majority in the next congress; that to that end I have suggested a brief but specific tariff plank which I ask Democratic candidates to accept, reject or amend, and that, believing a debate would tend to turn attention from the issue to individuals, I would not consider the proposition unless it came as a personal request."

"I might add the further reason that a debate between two Democrats would accentuate the tariff differences that have embarrassed our party in congress and give the Republican newspapers a chance to dwell upon Democratic dissensions instead of devoting their time to the contest now being waged between the progressive Republicans and the standpatters."

"A debate might be pleasing to the participants and entertaining to the audience, but I think the subject which I am endeavoring to present is worthy of calm and serious consideration."

"W. J. BRYAN."

THE FLOWER LADY.

By FLORA MILLIGAN.
 (Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

When volunteers for the Spanish-American war were called for I raised a company of infantry and as its captain went to the war. Wounded at the battle of Las Guasimas, I was taken to a hospital. There a bullet was taken out of me, and I was left to spend what time was necessary for the wound to heal.

The morning after the operation I was lying on my cot reading a newspaper that was being handed around among the patients when the door of the ward opened, a woman entered and began talking cheerily with the man she first reached. A bunch of flowers was in her hand, and before leaving the patient she gave him a few of them. She came on, giving encouraging words, smiles and flowers to the sick and wounded till she reached my cot.

Now, I was "born with a silver spoon in my mouth" and accustomed to have anything I wished for. Before the lady came up I had made up my mind that if she were unmarried she should be my wife. She approached me with one of the sweet smiles she had been scattering broadcast and said:

"It must be very hard for you to be lying here in this hot country. Are you ill or wounded?"

"Wounded."

"Don't think about your wound. The doctors say that if one thinks despondently about any part of the body all the impurities go in that direction. Let me give you something to fix your attention upon."

She handed me a few of the flowers, for which I thanked her, and she passed me. I asked one of the nurses who she was and was told that she had come to Cuba from the United States for the purpose of nursing soldiers, but to go about among them encouraging them as I had seen her doing. I asked what part of the United States she had come from, but no one seemed to know.

She visited the sick every day, and they were always better for her coming. Indeed, the nurses seemed to think that she cured more men than the doctors.

Day after day I watched for her till she came again. As before, she distributed flowers and smiles, the smiles being more highly appreciated than the flowers. She came to our ward about once in four or five days, and the patients, who failed to learn her name, spoke of her as the flower lady. One of the nurses asked her to give her a name by which to address her, but she declined on the ground that she did not wish it known at home—and the newspaper correspondents would surely publish it—that she was engaged in the work. She preferred to give whatever of comfort she could without having any heroics attached.

If anything were needed to complete my reverence for the flower lady this modesty would have been quite sufficient. I dared not by word or even manner reveal the secret of my heart to her. I simply showed my gratitude. The slightest evidence of what burned within me would have caused her to cease her visits, if not to the ward at least to me. And in that case, confined as I was, I could not go to her.

Long before the surgeon was willing to release me I got up, dressed myself and returned to duty. My colonel hesitated whether or no to send me back to the hospital, but concluded, being short of officers, to let me remain with the regiment. The day after my return to camp after visiting brigade headquarters he told me that the general having lost one of his aid-de-camps by sickness and another by a bullet, I was to be temporarily detailed for the lighter duties of the staff.

The general was but a few years older than myself and made a companion of me. We became confidential, and I told him of the flower lady, admitted the influence she had exerted over me and that when it were possible I would move heaven and earth to win her for my wife. He asked me if the lady had encouraged me, and I exonerated her from giving me any more attention than the commonest trooper in the ward.

There was so much on hand immediately after this that the subject was not again referred to between us. One morning during the fighting about Santiago, just before mounting our horses for what promised to be a hot day's work, the general handed me a sealed envelope.

"In case I come out of the fight alive today," he said, "give that back to me. If I am killed open it."

"But why, general?" I asked, surprised, "do you take that precaution today especially. We are fighting every day?"

"Because," he replied, "I have a feeling that I shall be killed today."

His foot was in the stirrup, and he mounted and rode away. During the same afternoon under a hot fire of Spanish artillery he sent me away with an order. As I turned from him something prompted me to look back. He had fallen from his horse and lay on the ground. A tremor passed over him, and he was dead.

When the general's body was sent north the flower lady went in the same ship. Meanwhile I had opened the envelope handed me by the general and read the contents with astonishment. It revealed that the flower lady was his wife. Desiring to be near him, she had gone to Cuba incognito and ministered to the sick and wounded. The document said also: "You are a good fellow and rich. It is my desire that you win her."

I obeyed my general's last order

Waverly, N. Y., Oct. 1.—A one-inch scratch from the paw of a rabid dog was responsible for the death of George Murray, the four-year-old child of a local merchant. The other two were bitten and were sent to the Pasteur institute for treatment as soon as it became known that the dog was mad. The Murray child's injury was so superficial, however, that no alarm was felt. Wednesday he developed unmistakable symptoms of rabies and died in great agony.

THE ROMANCE OF WHEAT.

Once Raised For Princes Only, Now
the World's Food.

Wheat is the food of princes and peasants. It is the food of the world. It was known to be the best food for fifty centuries, but it did not until thirty or forty years ago become universal. Every community ate all it raised. There was none to sell. It was so precious that only kings and the nobilities could afford it. It was sowed by peasants, who reaped it with a sickle by hand. For 5,000 years no better plan was conceived than the sickle and the scythe. Then came the reaper, an invention by Cyrus H. McCormick, of Scotch-Irish descent. Then the world began eating white bread.

This new machine, the reaper, when it was full grown into the self binder was equal to forty sickles. With one man to drive it, it could cut and bind enough wheat in one season to feed 400 persons. In its most highly developed form, the combined harvester and thrasher, it has become so gigantic a machine that thirty-two horses are required to haul it.

This levathan cuts a fifty foot road-way through the grain, thrashes it and bags it at the rate of one bag every half minute. And the total world production of reapers of every sort—self binders, mowers, headers, corn binders, etc.—is probably as many as 1,500,000 a year, two-thirds of them being made in the United States.

Because of this harvesting machinery the wheat crop of the world is now nearly twice what it was in 1870. The American crop has multiplied six and a half times in fifty years. Western Canada, Australia, Siberia and Argentina have become wheat producers.

The cost of growing one bushel in America with machinery and high wages is now about half a dollar, which is less than the cost in Europe and as low as the cost in India, where laborers can be hired for a few pence a day. With a sickle the time cost of a bushel of wheat was three hours. With a self binder it is now ten minutes.

Then came the steamboat and the railroad that carried the grain. At the outset it was sowed in bags. Then some railway geni invented the grain car, which holds as much as twenty or twenty-five wagon loads, and today one of the ordinary moving pictures of an American railroad is a sixty car train traveling eastward with enough wheat in its rolling bins to give bread to a city of 10,000 people for a year.

The Siberian railway, which is the longest straight line of steel in the world, was built largely as a wheat conveyor. So were the railways of western Canada, Argentina and India.

It is cheaper to carry wheat from one country to another than from the farm to the nearest town. The average distance that an American farmer has to haul his grain is nine and a half miles, and the average cost of haulage is 9 cents for a hundred pounds. Thus it has actually become true that to carry wheat ten miles by wagon costs more than 2,300 miles by steamship. Such is the tense efficiency of our wheat carrier system that a bushel of grain can now be picked up in Missouri and sent to the cotton spinners of England for a dime.

Mildew on the process and current business may be remedied by sprinkling flower of sulphur on the leaves when the dew is on in the evening or early morning.

One of the attractions that are listed for a Pennsylvania fair circuit this season is a trotting match between horses and a farmer. A Durham bull which is broken to sulky and is expected to make a mile in about 2:30. This should be a winning card.

PRESIDENT FOR SHIP SUBSIDY

Declares Country is Ready to Try Such a Measure.

U. S. SHOULD AID ALASKA

Mr. Taft is Opposed to Territorial Government in Alaska, Because Population is Too Scattered, and Suggests the Country Be Placed Under a Bureau in Washington.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 1.—President Taft in his address in the natural amphitheater at the world's fair came out flatly for a ship subsidy, and said the country was now ready to try such a measure.

"There is no subject," said Mr. Taft, "to which congress can better devote its attention at the coming session."

The president spoke of the wonderful development of Alaska in the last few years and the duty of the government to assist further development of its resources. He announced that he was opposed to the territorial form of government, however, because the population was too scattered and too small compared with the vast area of the country. In a territorial government he said, the larger communities—mining camps with a migratory population—would dominate.

He declared he would rather see Alaska placed under the supervision of a bureau or department in Washington; that railroads were needed in Alaska and the government should share in the expense of building them.

Shipping Marine Inadequate.

On ship subsidy the president said: "I need not tell you of the inadequacy of the American shipping marine on the Pacific and of the growing commercial progress in this regard of the empire of Japan. Japan is one of the most active and generous countries in the matter of subsidies to its merchant marine, and the effect is only too visible in an examination of the statistics."

"For this reason it seems to me that there is no subject to which congress can better devote its attention during the coming session than the bill which should regulate our merchant marine in such a way so as to establish American lines between New York and other ports and South American ports and between our coast ports and the Orient and the Philippines."

"We earn a profit from our foreign mails of from six to eight million dollars a year. The appropriation of that amount would be quite sufficient to put on a satisfactory basis two or three Oriental lines and several lines from the east to South America. Of course, we are familiar with the argument that this would be a contribution to private companies out of the treasury of the United States, but we are thus contributing in various ways on similar principles in effect, both by our protective tariff laws, by our river and harbor bills, and by our reclamation service. We are putting money into the pockets of ship owners, but we are giving them money with which they can compete, for reasonable profit only, with the merchant marine of the world."

The president pointed out the perilous position of the United States in the event of a foreign war, when we should have to buy vessels from other countries to use of coilliers for our fleets—a proceeding which, in view of the international neutrality laws, would be exceedingly undesirable.

MYSTERY IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Police Believe She Was Assaulted, Robbed and Murdered.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 1.—A complete mystery surrounds the death of Miss Mary Ann Slattery, whose charred body was found in the ruins of her home near Cresson, and which is being investigated by the Cambria county authorities.

A theory of robbery and murder develops from the fact that Miss Slattery was quite wealthy and from the further fact that her skull was fractured at the base of the brain. According to facts already in the hands of the authorities, it is believed that the woman was assaulted, robbed and murdered.

Michael Myers, a farm hand, who declares he spent the night in Cresson and returned only to find the home in ruins, is being detained while the authorities complete their investigations.

Man Meets Horrible Death in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Falling from the eighteenth floor of a skyscraper office building near Broad and Chestnut streets, Robert Bradbury met a horrible death in sight of hundreds of spectators. Mystery surrounds the cause of his fall. When he attracted the attention of spectators by his screams he was rapidly falling through the air in the rear of the buildings on a small thoroughfare known as Watts street. When he finally landed on a spiked fence his body was literally cut into pieces. It is not known from which of two buildings, both of them more than twenty stories high, he fell. His son, with whom he lived, says that he was a sufferer from heart trouble and frequently fell from his chair from sudden attacks.

N. Y. DEMOCRATS NAME GAYNOR

Supreme Court Justice Nominated For Mayor of Gotham.

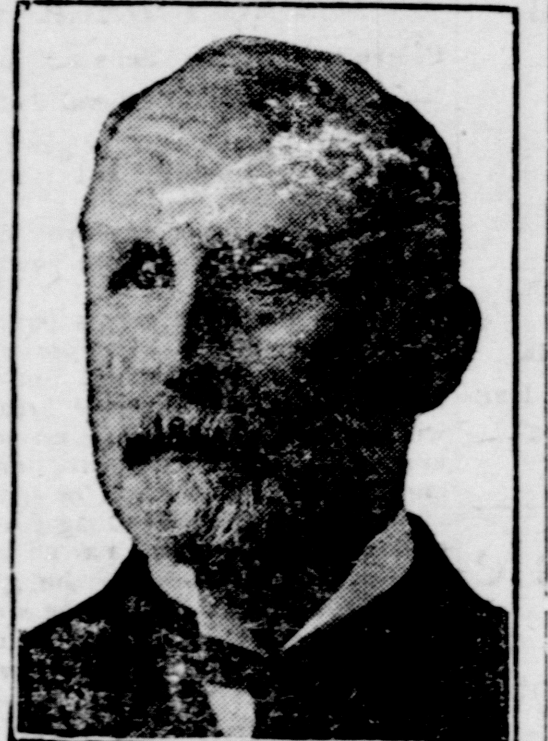

TAMMANY IN CONTROL

Override Opposition Headed by Patrick McCarren—Platform Deals With National, State and Municipal Questions.

New York, Oct. 1.—Justice William Jay Gaynor, of the New York state supreme court, was nominated for mayor of Greater New York by the Democratic city convention.

The nomination was made with a great demonstration of enthusiasm and by a unanimous vote.

Tammany had its own way at the convention, which initiates the Democratic campaign for control of the city government for the next four years. Of the 1679 delegates present, Tammany had control—to all intents and purposes—of almost the entire representation of the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, mustering 918 votes.

The Tammany cohorts were so strong that they overrode with ease the opposition faction headed by State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, of Brooklyn, who hoped to secure the re-nomination of Comptroller Metz, of that borough. The convention nominated for this office Robert M. Moore, president of the Commercial Trust company, the Tammany selection.

In the mayoralty fight Justice Gaynor's chief opponent will be Otto T. Baruch, president of the New York Trust company, who was nominated by the Republicans a few days ago, and who has some assurances of support from the Fusionists. There yet remains the possibility that the Independence League will make the contest a triangular one by naming a separate ticket.

The platform adopted by the Democratic convention dealt broadly with national, state and municipal questions, denouncing the recent tariff legislation and objecting to any interference in local affairs by the state legislature.

"We believe," the platform begins, "that the general government should exercise only the power granted to it by the federal constitution; and the largest measure of self-government possible should be given to all the different localities of the state, to the end that home rule should everywhere prevail and that individual liberty within the law be enjoyed to the largest possible measure by all citizens."

"We believe that unnecessary taxation is unjust; and we arraign the Republican party and President Taft for their failure to keep their explicit promise made to the country that the tariff would be revised downward."

Regarding city affairs the platform advocates, among other things, municipal ownership and the building of additional subways by the city.

THE CZARINA ILL

Czar Abandons His Proposed Visit to Italy.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The projected Crimean maneuvers, representing an invasion of the Crimea, have been abandoned on account of the illness of the czarina. For the same reason it is likely that the czar will give up his proposed visit to Italy.

Woman's Picture on Postage Stamp.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The picture of Martha Washington may be placed on one of the postage stamps of the present series. Women prominent in the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution have requested the postoffice department to take such action. It is suggested that the proposed issue of the 12-cent stamp offers an opportunity to do this. The director of the bureau of engraving and printing has been asked to prepare a model representing Martha Washington's head.

Out of Work, Kills Himself.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 1.—The body of David Smith, forty-eight years old, was found here in the stable in the rear of the Farmer's hotel. He had shot himself in the head. Smith was out of work and despondent.

A Heating System that Pays Dividends

You can keep every nook and corner of your house warm and comfortable every hour of every day and night and yet save a third to a half the coal you now use in that hot-air furnace or inferior boiler. No rattling, poking or fussing, no dust, no cool rooms or "cold side" to your house. Simply install the wonderful

MODEL Heating System

Adapted to steam or hot water. Uses less coal because it gets all the heat out of it. Leaves only the fine white ashes. Needs coal only once in ten hours, even on the coldest days.

THE LEDOM RANGE

Solves the problems of kitchen economy just as perfectly as the Model System solves the heating problem. Its plan of draught and circulation of heat make it easy and quick to control. Its grate is much like the grate under the Model Boiler, and keeps a clear working fire.

Farm and Garden

WHY HAY IS GRADED LOW.

Success of Alfalfa in the West on Irrigated Lands.

The rules of the National Hay Association recognize twenty-three grades of hay, which seem to fall into five classes—timothy, clover, mixed timothy and clover, wild grasses and alfalfa. Choice timothy hay must be sound, properly cured, of bright natural color, not mixed with more than one-twentieth of other grasses and well baled. Lower grades of timothy are Nos. 1, 2 and 3 and "no grade." Clover hay has two grades, No. 1 and No. 2. No. 1 clover must be medium clover, sound, properly cured, not mixed with more than one-twentieth of other grasses and well baled. Choice alfalfa hay must be reasonably fine leafy alfalfa of bright green color, properly cured, sound, sweet and well baled. Other grades of alfalfa are Nos. 1, 2 and 3 and "no grade." These rules are used by most cities that have official inspection.

A large percentage of the timothy on the market is graded below No. 1. The reasons are that many meadows are cut for years until they become weedy and mixed with other grasses and that the hay is often cut too late, so that it loses the bright natural color and palatability. If the farmer would send to market nothing but what the feeder considers good he would get a higher price. It might be necessary in some cases to educate the country buyer also.

Timothy has the lead, especially among city feeders, because it is not only nutritious, but palatable and non-laxative, and the horse is not likely to overfeed. Nevertheless other kinds of hay would often prove better for the feeder. Alfalfa, for instance, has high muscle building qualities and is especially valuable for draft horses. It is highly relished, however, and the horse may overfeed. Doubtless the feeder will in time learn that hay from legumes has great value when properly used.

Meantime the farmer is obliged to include clover and other legumes in his rotation in order to maintain the fertility of his land.

In any case the farmer who sells hay should seek to produce the highest grade by keeping his meadows pure and by proper methods of cutting, curing and stacking.

The hay crop of California is one of our most valuable agricultural products, being since 1905 worth over $31,500,000. Alfalfa is increasing yearly in acreage and value. From three to five cuttings may be made yearly on irrigated ground.

California grain hay (cut in the milk) is highly valued for feed and is sent east by the train load for feeding race horses. It often averages in value per acre more than the grain, as in 1906 the value per acre for grain hay was $10.80 as against $8.50 for grain.

The illustration shows a field of alfalfa in California.

Getting Rid of Weeds.

The problem of weed eradication is one of the most serious which confront the farmers of Iowa and adjoining states. During the last few years a method of killing weeds has been discovered which promises to greatly lighten the annual toll which the farmer pays to these pests. This new method consists in spraying the weeds with certain destructive materials known as herbicides. Some of these herbicides, of which iron sulphate is the most promising, will kill nearly all kinds of common weeds without injuring the oats, wheat or other crop in which they happen to be growing. In fact, in several cases the sprayed grain was thrifter and yielded more than that which did not receive the treatment. This method is especially valuable for destroying mustard in grainfields and dandelions and other weeds on lawns.

California's Farmer Congressmen.
John Bidwell and Timothy G. Phelps were the only two farmers ever elected to congress since California's admission into the Union, nearly sixty years ago. Bidwell resided at Chico, in Butte county, and was elected in 1864 from the Third congress district. At that time there were no railroads to the east and all communication was by steamer. When Bidwell reached San Francisco he met John Connors, who had already served one session in the senate. In conversation over the transportation question Connors said he had crossed the Isthmus of Panama three times and proposed to try Nicaragua for a change. So Bidwell and he went on to Washington together by way of San Juan del Sur and Greytown.

$100, REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have to much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. ## Rheumatism Cured

If Rheuma Fails to Do That Get Your Money Back, says People's Drug Store.

When a widely known druggist thinks so well of a prescription named Rheuma for Rheumatism that he is willing to refund your money if you aren't satisfied, you can make up your mind that he knows what he is advertising.

Rheuma is a new discovery that is curing people all over America. But let this good woman of Pottstown, Pa., tell about Rheuma: "I had Rheumatism so badly in my hands that I could do very little of my housework. I bought a bottle of Rheuma, and after using less than two bottles all my trouble was gone, and I haven't had a touch of the Rheumatic pains since." Mrs. Mary Clayton, 46 N. Evans St.

Rheuma costs only 50c. a bottle. Mail orders filled by Rheuma Co., 1000 West Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Life.
Life is a good deal of a puzzle, but if we were more resolute in our determination to enrich it by worthy service than we are in our desire to solve its mysteries we should be happier. If we put more into it we should get more out of it. —Epworth Herald.

A curious thing noted in connection with the black walnut tree is that when near apple trees it seems to be, in effect, a poison to them—at least they usually die out—where if it is some other kind of forest tree the only effect seems to be a stunting of growth due to lack of sunshine, air, moisture and plant food. Just what the cause of the noxiousness of the walnut tree is due to we have never seen stated.

The value of many pure blooded chickens is often greatly lessened as a result of the trip they make from raiser to buyer and especially of the care given in the week or two after arrival. Much could be done to prevent this slump in condition if the purchaser would ascertain from the shipper just what ration had been fed prior to shipment, with a suggestion or two as to the care of the birds until adjusted to their new environment.

How to Get Fat

Use Samose, Says Druggist L. M. Buehler and Put On Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh-forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat, and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that L. M. Buehler, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

An offer like this certainly shows remarkable faith in the powers of Samose to do all that is claimed for it. No one should suffer any longer from a thin, run down condition, now that Samose's remarkable powers are known.

First Feeding of Chicks.

Don't feed raw dough or rough mash to young chicks such as you feed larger chicks. Itaw dough sours in the crop and brings on all sorts of bowel troubles. If you want to feed this stuff cook it well beforehand. Well means through and through, not just a hard crust on the outside and the middle a soggy, wet mash. This is as bad as feeding it raw.

Chicks will do well for awhile on a grain ration alone, but they will do better if fed a little meat from the first. If the grain ration is dry and sweet chicks can be fed a little green cut bone from the very first. Just a little thrown in so that each chick can get a morsel or two will help wonderfully. If you ever dropped a bit of meat into a brooder full of two-week-old chicks and saw them scramble and fight over it you won't doubt that they needed it.

Cooked meat cut up very fine is safer and perhaps just as good, but it is costly. However, cost should be little considered in feeding chicks for the first few weeks, as a foundation can be then secured well worth many times its cost. Feed your poultry regularly. They will come to know you and wait for you and are all the better for it. The illustration will give you an idea.

FELL FROM HEAVEN

Creating Great Excitement in His Neighborhood. From the Bloomington, Ind., Daily Telephone.

Mr. Martin Vanwick drove sixteen miles to town this morning to get three bottles of Root Juice. He said: "The remedy has done wonders at my house and everybody in my neighborhood is excited over it. If it had fallen from heaven it could not be any better. I wouldn't take a fortune for what it has done for my wife. Before taking Root Juice she was in bed and everyone thought her case was hopeless. Even water would sour on her stomach and gas would form and press against her heart so that it would almost stop beating. Her tongue was badly coated and she would complain of a bitter, then a sour taste in her mouth. Sometimes her bowels would be running off and at other times she was badly constipated. The doctors said that her stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels were all badly diseased. When I got the first bottle of Root Juice she was reduced to a mere skeleton, and we feared that she couldn't take it, as no medicine we had tried lately would lay on her stomach, but the first dose of the juice seemed to soothe her stomach and do her good. She has used hardly two bottles, but is now out of bed and is rapidly recovering strength, flesh and health. The number of people that are going to People's drug store to inquire about the remedy is increasing daily, as so many of those who are using it are praising it very highly to their friends. It is sold for $1 a bottle or three bottles for $2.50. Many are buying three bottles at a time in order to save fifty cents.

A fruit grower who is the recipient of the very useful service which the birds render him in the destruction of a multitude of insect pests which but for their intervention would consume about everything he produced and then denies them a bite of his tempting fruit as sort of a reward, is absolutely too mean and stingy to live among civilized, fair minded folks. He should have a ring put in his nose and turned out with the porkers.

The child in the home who is made to think that the world—including everybody in the home—revolves around and must pay homage to him has some heartbreaking experiences ahead before he gets his ideas of the relation of the luminaries in his solar system properly adjusted. This early imbibed misconception often makes trouble for the youngster and a lot of grief and embarrassment for the folks who have to live and associate with him.

The revised government estimates of last year's cotton crop place the total acreage at 32,370,000 acres, the area actually picked 32,440,000 and the average yield per acre 194.9 pounds, not quite two-fifths of a bale per acre. The states leading in cotton production, with average acre yield, are as follows: Texas, 9,316,000 acres, 196 pounds; Georgia, 4,848,000 acres, 190 pounds; Alabama, 3,591,000 acres, 179 pounds; Mississippi, 3,395,000 acres, 223 pounds; South Carolina, 2,545,000 acres, 219 pounds; Oklahoma, 2,311,000 acres, 143 pounds. Missouri had but 87,000 acres to cotton, but her acre yield was 340 pounds.
